COMMUNICATION.

MT. VERNON, KY.,
January 31, 1910.

MR. ALBRIGHT, EDITOR:

I have often thought that I would write something for your paper, not so much for my thoughts, but from a sincere desire to contribute in my feeble way, if possible, to the building up of Rockcastle and of awakening some activity among the women.

We would not vote, if we could but yet there are many things which we could do and should do to prepare our-elves for citizenship—a preparation that would make the men realize the worth of it.

Duty imposes upon us many things outside of the home and woman's mission extends beyond the circle of the home. I would not for one moment detract from home duties, but woman can do all that is required of her there and yet she has not fulfilled her entire mission. She is interested in the church; she is certainly interested in the schools, in the regulation of health, in the extension of educational work, in the establishing of parks in the beautification of our surroundings. All of these she is interested in.

We have many sweet lovely women in Rockcastle, who, if they determined and set about to carry out some specific object, could easily accomplish it. A county organization should be formed by which the children could be gotten to school; by means of which the parents could be aroused to take more interest in the schools; where the women could work in conjunction with the trustees and make requests and recommendations to the County Board of Education, where they could recommend improvements in the school buildings, in the school grounds, where they could have their committees in various school districts to look after the yards and beautify them with flowers; where they could work in conjunction with the juvenile court which deals with the young criminals. Such an association could have sub-committees in all the towns in Rockcastle, who would urge and take up with the proper authorities all international improvements. The women are directly interested in the welfare of the county; they want to see the schools made better, the houses more attractive and the grounds beautified. They want to see the towns cleaner, the houses painted and the streets paved. They want to see parks in each town nicely equipped and the women can assist in having all these things done. They do so in other towns and counties and they can do so in Rockcastle.

Wouldn't some of the older ladies start the movement?
MYRTLE BRYANT.

$100 REWARD. $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease; requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's family pills for constipation.

Attorney General Breathitt has submitted to Gov. Willson a lengthy opinion, in which he holds that the Legislature can authorize the issuance of $500,000 bonds to meet the deficit in the State's funds for obligations already contracted, and that such action will be legal without ratification by the people.

THE BEST HOUR OF LIFE is when you do some great deed or discover some wonderful fact. This hour came to J. R. Pitt, of Rocky Mt., N. C., when he was suffering intensely, as he says, "from the worst cold I ever had, I then proved to my great satisfaction, what a wonderful cold and cough cure Dr. King's New Discovery is. For after taking one bottle, I was entirely cured. You can't say anything too good of a medicine like that." Its surest and best remedy for diseased lungs, hemorrhages, la grippe, asthma, hay fever, dry throat or lung trouble, 50c., $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Chas. C. Davis.

Congressman McLachlan, of California, and Kinkrid, of Nebraska, who were mentioned by Louis R. ### LIFE ON PANAMA CANAL has had one frightful drawback—malaria trouble—that has brought suffering and death to thousands. The germs cause chills, fever and ague, biliousness, jaundice, lassitude, weakness and general debility. But Electric Bitters never fail to destroy them and cure malaria troubles. "Three bottles completely cured me of a severe attack of malaria," writes Wm. A. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had good health ever since." Cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles, and prevent typhoid. 50c. Guaranteed by Chas. C. Davis.

The agitation over a possible conflict between the races in Cuba has partially abated, due to the personal appeals made by President Gomez and the efforts of the press, but there is still an undercurrent of dissatisfaction, and continued rumors of the organization of a negro party to control the Government.

Kidney disease is a dangerous ailment. You should never delay a moment to take some good, reliable, dependable remedy. In such cases we recommend DeWitt's Kidney and bladder Pills. These wonderful pills are being used by thousands of people daily with fine results. They are for weak kidneys, weak back, back ache, inflammation of the bladder and all urinary disorders. ## ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce HON. HARVEY HELM as a candidate to succeed himself as Representative from the Eighth Congressional District subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The State of Kentucky amended its Constitution last fall for the purpose of improving the public roads. It is difficult to amend the constitution of this, or any other State, as the records of elections amply prove. There must be shown a good cause for a change before the people will vote to reform the organic law. The recent vote, on the Bosworth-Wyatt amendment meant that the voters realized the necessity of taking measures to improve the roads. That vote was cast thoughtfully and after the question had been much mooted in by the press and the public. The passage of the amendment recorded the fact that the voice of the people was raised in protest against existing conditions, and in behalf of a remedy. This legislature ought to adopt laws to take advantage of the Constitutional Amendment. This much is expected of the legislature by the State.

There is a good deal of talk about the probability of graft in road building and this is put forward in some quarters as an argument against this or that plan of road building. We have in the public service to-day a General Assembly marked by a high average of ability. It is absurd to say that such a body cannot pass road laws that will bring about the desired end without permitting the threatened—or imagined evil. Due de liberation upon the bill, or bills, submitted should, of course, precede the favorable reporting of any bill, but the matter should not be passed over upon the ground there are suspicions that roads construction might not be free from graft.

There isn't much graft in Kentucky when one gets down to bed rock, and there is a great need of road construction. As to what law would best fit the needs of the State and of counties and communities there may be differences of opinion. That we must have better roads will be agreed by everyone who has given intelligent consideration to the question. And now is the time to tackle the problem from a legislative standpoint.

The News hopes that good roads legislation will be one of the benefits accruing to Kentucky from the sitting of this General Assembly.—Frankfort News.

There is a widespread opinion that the American farmer is not the farmer he ought to be. It is said that his brother in Germany, in France, in England and in other countries raises more wheat and oats and rye and potatoes to the acre than he does. Doctrinaires in the Agricultural Department and the State Agricultural colleges, of course, know it all because they have the books. But the American farmer has the experience. If they could but pool their knowledge and experience these two simples would no doubt result in a rare compound of success. It is said that in farming, as in many other things, the American farmer is wasteful, that he gets only from one-half to one-third as much as is harvested on an equal area of land in other countries and Casandra of the press are prophesying that we are nearing the end of our row in farm production. It is interesting to know that the great railroad companies have decided that they can advantageously educate farmers along their routes and that a special train bearing the members of the Farmer's Institute and of the Maryland Agricultural college is now in Southern Maryland. These missionaries at various convenient places are lecturing farmers on the importance of crop diversification and land improvement.—Ex

KENTUCKY HORRORS

And now the ghastly shape that haunts the mines of this country has appeared in our own State, and claimed with sudden horror she lives of at least thirty three tollers beneath earth's surface.

With tragedy of death and bereavement at our doors surely we will awake to the insistence of the problem that faces our Legislators.

How long will indifference permit the ever threatening shadow of doom to hang like a pall above this field of necessary labor? If Congress is too busy investigating Ballinger and seeking some way to get together on the President's policies, our State Legislature ought act for Kentucky. An inquiry should be held, into the cause of this latest disaster, and the responsibility traced to its ultimate sources. Out of such an investigation may come suggestions for legislation in the interests of our own miners.

The future will see the mining industry of this State become increasingly important. New mining territory will be opened up; hundreds of additional workmen will be employed. All this means a growing peril, a widening opportunity for calamity if measures are not devised to enforce the strictest regulations and the most effective precautions that science and experience have discovered.

Here is occasion for immediate action. Public sentiment is stirred by the catastrophe at Drakesboro. It will greet approvingly any move that may be made to improve conditions.

The chance is at our door to lead the country in this great work. Kentucky has been accused of hanging back in the march of progress. We may retrieve our reputation, and silence our critics by showing the way to make mining a comparatively safe occupation.—Louisville Herald.

HOPE FOR THE BEST.

By way of comfort to any readers who are inclined to bemoan the fact that our old friend Mr. Groundhog got a glimpse of his shadow Wednesday, on the authority of the official weather forecaster of Pittsburgh' name temporary forgotten we assure them that Mr. Groundhog's reliability as a predictor is not unchanged.

The Pittsburgh meteorologist declares that Mr. Groundhog's reputation has been built upon the most flimsy basis, and weather statistics for many years go to show that his habit of getting stage fright when he sees a penumbra outlining his elegant figure is no certain indication of a prolonged winter.

This may be professional jealousy. It is well known that prophets are prone to discount the vaticinatory abilities of their rivals. It is also beyond doubt that the groundhog family has been in the weather bureau business much longer than the Washington authorities and their representatives throughout the country.

We are not, therefore, taking sides in the controversy. We merely call attention to the dispute as reason to hope for the best in spite of traditional indications to the contrary.—Herald.

At the annual election of officers of the Bank of Mt. Vernon held last week, C. C. Williams, W. L. Richards, George Livesay, S. H. Martin and A. T. Fish were elected directors. Mr. Williams and Mr. Richards were chosen president and cashier, respectively. J. T. Adams, vice president and A. B. Furuish assistant cashier.

The Brown Comedy Company closed their engagements here Monday evening. T. M. Brown, the manager, takes the leading role and is certainly an artist in his line. Mt. Vernon people who patronized the show very liberally are extravagant in his praise and the Brown Comedy Co. They are at Brodhead for a weeks engagement.

The reading rooms under the supervision of the Woman's Club, were thrown open Wednesday evening with a kind of informal reception from 7 to 9 o'clock. Hot chocolate and wafers were served. One room is supplied with all kinds of the latest and best magazines, books, etc., and the other room with games of different kinds. The rooms will be open for two hours out of each day and those who desire to spend a short while during that time reading or playing some of the games, have a cordial invitation. It is open for all who desire the benefits and pleasures. The town is certainly indebted to the Woman's Club for their effort to provide for Mt. Vernon, the very thing we have so long needed. The Woman's Club is doing a great and good work and with the proper support and encouragement, they can and will do a great deal more. We ask for them the co-operation and assistance of every person in the town, and especially those who want to see our town improve and grow.

Now is the time to buy Overcoats at 1/4 off the regular price at Fish's Cash Store.

Acheson, President of Caldwell college, Danville, gave a lecture in Brown Memorial chapel last Saturday evening, subject, "Education and the State," spoke at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon gave a talk to men and boys only, at the Brown Memorial chapel, and each address was a treat within itself. Prof. Acheson is one of the leading educators in the State and one of the foremost workers and most convincing advocates connected with the Y. M. C. A. Mt. Vernon people are anxiously awaiting his return which he has promised to do, when conditions will permit.

E. C. Walton, who has owned the Interior Journal for ten years and has been with the paper thirty years, sold it Monday to Shelton M. Sauley, of the Frankfort News. The paper has been in the Walton family for nearly forty years. W. P. Walton, of Lexington, having edited and owned it some twenty-five or thirty years.

Mr. Sauley gets immediate possession, but will not move to Stanford until after the adjournment of the legislature. Mr. Walton will remain with the paper for a month or two.

Editor Walton is one of Kentucky's brightest and most popular newspaper men and his retirement will be a source of sincere regret not only with the public but with the craft as well.

FIRST WOMAN ATTORNEY.

In the chancery court Friday, Chancellor Smith entered a formal decree adjudging Miss Mollie M. Parker possessed the necessary qualifications to undergo examination for license to practice law. This formality ended, Miss Parker must now appear before the supreme court for examination as to her legal qualifications. That examination passed, Miss Parker will be granted a license as the first woman attorney, it is said, to practice at the bar in Mobile county. Miss Parker was formerly employed in the law office of Fitts & Leigo in this city—Mobile, Ala., Register.

Miss Parker is a sister to Mrs. Marshall Smith, of this place, and is well known here. She was once a student at Brown Memorial and afterwards attended a business college in Louisville.

To-morrow evening will be the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees and we understand there will be several important matters come before them for consideration. We certainly hope to see some action taken on some of the more important questions. Side walks, street crossings and street improvements are what we want and need. Now is the time of year for an ordinance for side walks so that those who have to build walks can be ready to do so when the spring opens. Don't wait till next fall on the theory that walks are not needed during the summer months. Build for summer use and then they will be ready for winter. It is absolutely ridiculous for people to have to plough around through the mud as the people have had to do this winter on some of the principal streets in the town. The Board realizes fully the needs of the town and the people are looking to you for some sort of relief.

It might be well to suggest in this connection, that when an ordinance for sidewalks or any other improvement is passed and one or more of the trustees are included in the list of those ordered to make such improvement or improvements, that if that trustee or the trustees thus affected would comply strictly with the specifications of the order, then others would realize the sincerity of those who make the law and would then more cheerfully comply with its requirements. The town authorities are looked upon as leaders in all matters of improvement in the town and if the board takes the proper lead the big majority of others are sure to follow. Give the board the hearty support due them and then if their efforts are fruitless, let the blame fall where it justly belongs.

In a revolver duel at Edgewood mines, near Middlesboro, Deputy Sheriff Gordon Givens and Benjamin Gatloff, a miner, were each mortally wounded. Givens was attempting to arrest Gatloff on a charge of disorderly conduct. Givens figured conspicuously as an officer of the local military company in suppressing the night riders in Western Kentucky two years ago.

Eighteen hundred people attended the funeral services at Covington Sunday over the body of the late Arthur Goebel. The sermon was preached by Dr. Gilbert Schmidt, who was assisted by Dr. Albert Hamerschmidt. Monday the body was taken to Frankfort for burial, accompanied by Justus Goebel. Interment took place Tuesday.

FROM HUGH.

Well I thought it was about time I was saying something about my Buggies. As you see spring is just about to over take us again, and I have so many of my Rockcastle friends to inquire of me every day asking me if I am still going to sell buggies. Of course I am going to keep buggies on hand as usual. I just couldn't think of laying down my buggies, having been in the business for so long a time. The fact about it is I am kinder daffy when you mention buggy to Hugh. It does me so much good when I can place a man in a new buggy and see him drive off home. I can just imagine I can see his sweet little wife run down to the gate and throw her pretty little arms around his neck and kiss him and tell him that she is so glad to see that new buggy because she won't have to ride the old gray nag now that trots so hard when she wants to go over to see Uncle John or down to see Aunt Malissie. Again friends, I really don't think it would be right for me not to keep a few buggies in my old Main street wareroom. Now I will say one thing, if you see anybody that wants to rent office room I can spare a small space I will rent Richmond avenue and London Boulevard. The reason I want to rent that much of my old office is this; You see my old friends put me in the Circuit Clerk's office, and that keeps me confined in one place more than before. There is one advantage you will have by my being in the court house, you can find me much easier than heretofore. My customers had difficulty in finding me when I had such a large office, but since things are arranged as they are now you will have no trouble in finding Hugh. Just come to the Circuit Clerk's office and pull the latch string that is hanging on the outside at all times and come in. Hugh will treat you friendly and make you feel at home as usual. I always keep some chairs in my office and we can just sit down and have a long chat, and if you have any business in connection with the office I will be glad to attend to it for you, and if you want to talk about our buggies you know I will gladly do that. We can get up a trade in some form or other. If no other way we can talk about that old roan, red or blue cow of yours, and you know how Hugh loves to talk about trading for cows and the like. Oh, yes, I like to have forgotten about the little wormie shoots too, well to get up a trade and not be so choicy, I will as usual trade for any old thing I never did disappoint a friend when I knew he wanted a buggy, and wanted to trade something on the farm that he could spare. I always had a feeling way down in my heart for his little family at home, who have sit around the good old fire place just after supper and beg papa to get them a buggy. So don't forget friends, you will find Hugh at his office in the court house. Don't be afraid to call and see him when in town. It's just the same old Hugh, and will be glad to see you as usual. I consider it a pleasure to have my country people and friends to call and see me. In fact I want you to keep one eye on Hugh anyhow. I told you I would attend to the Circuit Clerk's office right and I will do that.

Your true friend,
HUGH.
